Latest News and Updates

February, 2022

Happy February! As winter settles in here in Colorado, we're enjoying some much-needed snow.

At the same time, at the gorgeous Castle Gallery Fine Art in Fort Wayne, Indiana, they're celebrating the season with a special show, "Winter Splendor," which includes my painting of Lake Agnes (in the Canadian Rockies). So, this month, as we continue our Gallery Spotlight Feature, we'll focus on this wonderful gallery.

The Castle is a Romanesque-style building that was built in 1905 as a wedding gift. It later became the city's art museum, and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. In 1995, Jody Hemphill Smith, herself an immensely talented artist, and Mark Paul Smith re-established the Castle as an art gallery. To fully appreciate the building, I've included a photo from a recent "Best of America" show, plus, a great memory of meeting some of my collectors there. I look forward to visiting the gallery again soon.

Also below is a quick glimpse of some of my recent paintings, as well as some recent works that have sold. This includes a demo from a life drawing class I teach. You may note the mask on the model - a sign of these unique times!

Stay well and safe,
Mitch
